We advocate for opportunities for persons with developmental disabilities to live to their full potential and experience inclusion in all areas of community life, from school and work to recreation.

What Is The San Diego Regional Center?

SDRC is a starting point for coordinating services for you or your loved one with developmental disabilities such as autism, intellectual disabilities, cerebral palsy, or epilepsy. We are one of 21 regional centers in California.

We are a state-funded, private nonprofit corporation that contracts with the California Department of Developmental Services to provide services to clients and their families in San Diego and Imperial Counties.

How Do I Apply?

STEP 1

Call San Diego Regional Center's Intake Services at 858-576-2938.

An Intake Coordinator will explain our services and collect information regarding the applicant. An adult applicant, parent, conservator, or guardian must submit a formal application.

STEP 2

The applicant and family will be invited for an intake and assessment interview to determine eligibility. Additional information about the applicant will be gathered at this time.

The meeting provides an overview of the intake process and services available through SDRC. Eligibility will be determined within 120 days for all individuals ages three and up.

STEP 3

If eligible for SDRC services, a meeting will be scheduled to develop an individualized program plan (IPP). Non-eligible clients will be referred to other appropriate agencies.

Fees

Intake, diagnosis, and assessment services are free. Parents of minors residing in 24-hour residential care outside the home will be assessed a fee based on their income.
